FORMER HOCKEY PLAYERS TALK OVER OLD TIMES

Charlie Graham, manager of the Lacombe hockey team of the Big Four league, spent the Easter holiday with his brother-in-law, Malcolm Morrison, of Midlandvale. Graham is one of the mainstays of the Lacombe team, while he learned his hockey under Dr. T. R. Ross, of Drumheller, brother of the famous Art Ross, of the Boston Bruins, when the Drumheller surgeon was practicing in Blairmore. The Drumheller doctor claims he taught his brother Art, so the Lacombe hockey manager has an illustrious hockey teacher. Naturally Charlie and Dr. Ross swapped a few stories of how they used to do it in the mountains, during his visit to Drumheller. Both former Blairmore citizens claim that the boys back in Blairmore still know how to play hockey, which, of course, means, that they got their inspiration from the former wearers of the Blairmore hockey colors.—Drumheller Review.

The local lodge Knights of Pythias, together with Python Sisters and a number of visiting friends, last night celebrated the birthday of the local K.P. lodge. Following a number of hands of whist and distribution of prizes, supper was served, followed by a programme of music and dancing. Mrs. Bannan, Mr. Phillips and Mr. Hadwell contributed to the vocal numbers on the programme.

Allice Barton, aged eighteen, with her head terribly battered and cut with an axe, was found murdered in her home at Toronto recently. Frank Barton, her brother, is charged with the crime. Vincent Barton, father of the dead girl, resides at Wayne, Alberta.

News For Horse Lovers

Statistics Show They Are Hard To Displace

That farmers all over the world realize the advantages of horses for agricultural work, is shown by the following figures just published by the National Horse Association:

In 1788 the only horses in Australia were one stallion, three mares and a colt. In 1800 they had increased to 230; in 1850 to 159,001, and now there are 2,250,361.

In Great Britain there are 1,204,198 horses engaged in agriculture. Despite the enormous depletion of horses in France during the war, there are now 3,000,000 in that country.

Although millions of pounds have been spent in the United States trying to displace them, there are 20,000,000 horses and mules in the country.

Germany has 3,805,000 horses, excluding those attached to the Army.

YOUTHFUL CHARM

All Tingey models are created and sketched in Paris and the patterns made in New York.

Here's a darling frock for college girls and debutantes. It has a moulded collar and dainty flared skirt—a style adorable for slim young bodies. The collar and cuffs are charming too, easy to make and yet so fascinating when finished.

Flat silk crepe and wool crepe are lovely for this model, but another suitable and charming medium is marocain.

Imagine, for instance, soft green or scarlet marocain, with organdie ruffled with cream tinted Valenciennes to match.

Another extremely pretty way of treating the collar and cuffs is to use organdie with ruffles of narrow matching ribbon. Sometimes this can be purchased with a tiny metal edge which makes a most attractive finish.

Of course a bought collar and cuff set can be worn with this model. This pattern may be obtained in sizes 14 to 20 and 24 to 30. It is hand-cut.

Pattern price 25 cents. Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address Pattern Department.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON MAY 4

GIVING UP ALL FOR THE KINGDOM

Golden Text: "Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven." — Matthew 6:20.

Lesson: Matthew 19:1-29.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 8:1-11.

Explanations and Comments

In regard to giving up all for the Kingdom, verses 10-22. And behold one, a ruler of the synagogue, as Luke tells us (18:18), came to Jesus with the question, "Teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?" His question was a natural one for the religious teachers, the rabbis, differed greatly among themselves in their teaching and their practices. "His coming must have been as welcome to Jesus as the visit of the mothers with their children; a man not belonging to the class of self-satisfied religionists of whom he had had ample experience; and a man of unusual ingenuities, an open mind, and a good, honest heart; a malcontent, probably with some of the rabbi's practices of the rabbis and scribes, coming to the anti-rabbinical teacher in hope of hearing from him something more satisfying." — A. B. Bruce.

"Why asketh thou Me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good," and to obey His will is to find your right course of action, was Jesus' answer. "But if thou wouldst enter into life, keep the commandments," Jesus said. "Which?" very naturally questioned the young man, for besides the ten commandments there were many other laws given by Moses and a multitude given by the scribes. In answer, Jesus cited the first, second, eighth, ninth and fifth commandments of the Decalogue, all of them bearing upon one's treatment of others, and then added from Leviticus 19:18, "and, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." All these things have I observed: what lack I yet? the young man returned in surprise. Dean Farrar voices the young man's thoughts: "Surely the Great Teacher to whom I have come seeking for some great thing to do, or secret thing to know, cannot possibly give His answer that I am to keep these old, simple, elementary Ten Commandments, which I have known ever since I lisped them at my mother's knee! He must mean something far beyond that." Dean Farrar comments: "It was exactly like the child in the poem who, having been talked to continually about the glory and majesty of the sea, and being led to the seaside said, 'Is that the mighty ocean? Is that salt?'"

"If thou wouldst be perfect, go, sell all that thou hast, and give to the poor," answered Jesus. This was the one thing necessary for this man to do, for between him and the love of God, as well as between him and the love of his neighbor, stood the love of possessions, "For he was rich."

Establishing Training Centres For Criminals

English Prison Commission Plans To Train Men In Suitable Work

As part of the scheme to reclaim young criminals, the English prison commission will establish a series of training centres, the first of which will be at Nottingham, where men of a special class between the ages of 21 and 26 will be sent. The men will be to train each man in the work for which he is best suited. The men will work eight hours a day.

Speaking of the scheme, an official of the prison commission said in an interview: "Probably we shall attach some of the men to the building parties and engineers. There will be physical training, and in the evenings educational pursuits."

Further the official said: "Criminals will not be sent to the training centre direct by order of the courts, but will graduate from the prison to the training centre."

"I wonder who wrote you," she mused dreamily. "You must have seemed almost a part of him as the weeks passed and he saw your loveliness unfold. Did he dread the finishing of his task, I wonder, knowing that at its end he must give you up forever? And did he know that when he was only a memory his work would live, cherished by some one thousands of miles from its own birthplace?"

She stooped, to brush a hand over the silky surface.

"I think you were wrenched on an old loom," she murmured. "You were, perhaps, the only beautiful thing in some humble room. I think that little children watched you grow, and touched you with small, reverent fingers. I think..."

Charmian stiffened, suddenly conscious that a shadow was lying across the rich wine color of the old rug; and the blood flew to her cheeks as she saw Jim Bennett in the doorway. Then she sprang up, laughing, in real confusion.

"How long have you been there, listening to me go on like that?" she asked.

"Not long enough to be called an intentional eavesdropper; but long enough to wonder..."

"Wonder what?" urged Charmian as he paused.

"If you'd gone dotty—making such passionate love to an inanimate object. Is it something new?"

"New!" echoed Charmian in amazement. "Can't you see with a single glance that it's ages old?"

"That wouldn't it be wonderful to furnish a home with beautiful things like this? Why, just to walk on it seems a profanation."

"In that case," commented Jim, feasting himself on a corner of the doctor's desk, "it don't know as 'Home, Sweet Home' would be a real comfortable retreat. If a fellow got hollered at every time he happened to step on a rug that was in the way—well, you're right, Charmian, the air would be liable to become charged with something related to profanation!"

Charmian laughed. Then her eyes grew troubled, and she questioned: "But you like it, don't you, Jim? You see its beauty?"

The young man, sensing that this question was a serious matter to the girl, looked down at the rug thoughtfully, then up at the window hangings—at the candlesticks upon the mantel, and at last came back to the anxious eyes of his old playmate.

"Yes, I like it, Charmian; but I can't help wondering at the whole thing. It looks like you, somehow—this room, I mean. That's why I like it. I suppose," he added honestly, "if you were to hang ten-cent muslin at the windows, and put an American rug with a blue dog in the middle of it, like Lizzie Baker's, on the floor, I'd think it was all right because you said so. In some ways, Charmian, I'm a damn fool."

"The girl laughed, though she was secretly touched; and asked: "What brings you out this hour of the morning?"

"A trip over beyond South Wickfield, to get a mortgage for the bank. Thought you might go with me. It's a bully day."

"So it is," she replied regretfully, with a second longing glance toward the open door, "but I've just refused to go with the two M.D.'s because of an extra lot of duties."

"Let 'em wait a day longer. If I could cut out one of those M.D.'s I'd see a ray of light in the surrounding gloom."

"Better take your mother," suggested Charmian, making an unsuccessful effort to suppress a smile.

"She can't go. I—"

"So I'm second fiddle? I wonder, Jim, will any girl ever be anything else to you?"

Instantly, Charmian would have given words to recall those words. A look sprang into Jim Bennett's face that brought back, almost forgotten memory—the same look that had swept over his countenance when as a small boy he had been reproved by the teacher because...

In a flash the whole scene came back to her: the classroom with its familiar odor born of chalk and much-thumbed books—Jim, back at his desk for the first time since his father's funeral—the class standing, to read, "O Captain, my Captain," as a cruel fate bringing to the boy's turn those words:

"My Captain does not answer; his lips are pale and still.

My father does not feel my arm, he has no pulse or will..."

And Jim, white-faced, thin-lipped, had refused to read! He had been sent home in disgrace, carrying a sharp reprimand from a teacher who saw in the defiant pupil only an unruly little boy. It was Charmian Davis who opened her eyes to the true state of things, when, as the doors closed behind the white-faced culprit, she had burst into a passion of sympathetic tears.

"Don't you see," she sobbed. "He—he couldn't read it without crying?"

His own father... only the other day... And he couldn't cry right before the whole school, could he?"

He it said for the teacher that she cried herself, when brought face to face with her own thoughtlessness. Later she told Grandma Davis that she had received a lesson she never could forget. And now, years after, the same came back to Charmian with fresh poignancy, and she knew that, somehow, she had hurt the grown-up Jim in the same way he had been hurt on that long-gone day when the teacher misunderstood her.

Jim, who had thrown his hat on the doctor's desk, reached for it, and, ignoring her careless words, started toward the door. But Charmian, always quick to acknowledge a mistake, barred the way, and the surprised young man felt her hand slip into his.

"Jimmy, I hurt you, didn't I? I don't know what made me do that. Just for that I'm going to drop everything and go to ride with you. John Carter can eat cold beans this soon, for all I care. Just wait till I tell Grandma, and—"

Jim laughed, a queer, choky little laugh that she knew came hard.

"Don't be an idiot!" he said. "You haven't hurt me, Charmian; and I won't have you going far for a last reason. Honestly, I don't want you to go now. I've got things to mull over in my mind, and you're a disturbing influence. Run along and get your work done. I'm all right."

"But I'm not," cried the girl. She was gently propelling him out of the doctor's office and toward the house.

"I feel the need of air and sunshine, and it's your duty to see that I get both. You talk with me, so I won't feel so hurried to get back."

She was away, leaving him standing at the door of the old parlor where Grandma Davis was keeping her accustomed vigil.

"Hello, sonny," she greeted him. "What you doing away from the bank this time of day?"

"Running down some interest money," explained Jim. "I've persuaded Grandma that it's too good a day to waste indoors."

"So 'tis," agreed the old lady, "and a ride'll do her a lot of good. I'm hoping maybe she'll get out more often when Doctor Carter gets the doctor call set." I'll be real natural for him to take her when he rides off in the country, won't it?"

"Too darn natural," replied Jim; then, to change the subject: "What's been happening on Broadway this morning, Grandma?"

"You mean Main Street? Well, I'll admit I've seen things more lively than they've been lately; but Lizzie Baker lost her seersucker petticoat right on the sidewalk, and had to step out of it and scurry home. It was worth considerable to see that."

"Gosh! I'll say it was!"

Jim laughed so heartily that Charmian, setting the table in the room beyond, breathed a sigh of relief, and called: "What's happened? Is it so funny?"

"It wasn't funny for Mizzie Baker," replied Grandma. "You leave that table, dearie. If you're late back the doctor can set himself; and you mustn't keep Jim waiting. There's nothing irritates a man like being kept waiting."

"The table's set; and I won't keep him waiting a minute longer. Ready, Jim?"

He nodded, rising slowly as if reluctant to take his eyes from the picture the girl made as she walked, with the dusty ball as a background, for her true gown. A pink scarf across her arm added a splash of color that matched her cheeks; and if the young man had been slow to appreciate the beauty of an oriental rug, he was certainly not slow to appreciate the charm of his old playmate.

"Where's your hat?" asked Grandma. "You're not going clear to South Wickfield without a hat!"

Charmian laughed.

"I most surely am! After the gorgeous greenness that Jim's accustomed to, I'd be ashamed of—"

"Shucks!" broke in Grandma. "Your old black straw with the pink roses is enough sight prettier than that—that."

Words failed her, and the two young people laughed as Jim responded: "Don't worry, Grandma. She doesn't need a hat—not with all that woman's crowning glory! To keep off the draughts. Come on, Charmian. We'll have to break the speed laws if I get you back in time to cook dinner for your boarder."

"I don't you do any reckless driving," warned Grandma, as they moved away. "I'm not so feeble that I can't start dinner if you're late. If you go past the Buscombs' you stop and get that small order catalogue I lent to Emmy. She's liable to forget to return it."

Does Not Always Work

Rich People Who Dress Poorly Sometimes Get Shabby Treatment

That the poor must dress smartly while the rich can dress as they like is a suggestion not borne out by the recent experience of one of Britain's richest men, who was turned away from a London hotel because he looked shabby. As a matter of fact, his income is about six millions, and the wage-bill of his domestic staff over £200 a week. Well known on the Scottish golf-links, he has been pulled up more than once by club colleagues who have noticed that the soles of his boots have become the status of a partner company with the uppers.

Jim, who had thrown his hat on the doctor's desk, reached for it, and, ignoring her careless words, started toward the door. But Charmian, always quick to acknowledge a mistake, barred the way, and the surprised young man felt her hand slip into his.

Using Automatic Pilots

British 'Planes Make Long Flights With Robot Control

The entire squadron of British night bombing aeroplanes, fitted with "robot" electrical controls, has flown continuously for 40 hours and miles in human pilots taking charge. Routes from South England to Scotland have been followed, with automatic pilots, actuated by radio from the ground, in complete charge, and the aeroplanes have landed at a predetermined destination. The automatic landing is accomplished by means of a weighted wire, which, as soon as it comes in contact with the aerodrome, causes the aeroplane to "dive" and slide in with the engine throttle back.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ALWAYS SLEEP WELL

The healthy child sleeps well and during its waking hours is never cross and always happy and laughing. It is only the sickly child that is cross and peevish. Mothers, if your children do not sleep well; if they are cross and give a great deal, give them Baby's Own Tablets and they will soon be well and happy again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation, colic and indigestion and promote healthy sleep. They are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates and may be given to the newborn baby as well as to the adult. Obtain the Tablets through any medicine dealer at 25 cents a box, or by mail, post paid from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Maxims Treasured By King

Are Hung On Library Walls At Buckingham Palace

Maxims treasured by the King and hung by him on the walls of his library and business room at Buckingham Palace, were written up by Sir Charles Ferguson, Governor-General of New Zealand, at a school which he visited during his farewell tour. They were: "Teach me to be obedient to the rules of the game." "Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentality, admiring the one and despising the other. Teach me neither to proffer nor to receive cheap praise. If I am called upon to suffer, let me have to wait in silence. Teach me to win, if I may; if I may not win, then, above all, teach me to be a good loser. Teach me neither to cry for the moon nor over spit milk."

A Real Asthma Remedy. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has never been advertised by extravagant statements. Its claims are conservative indeed, when judged by the benefits which it performs. Expect real relief and permanent benefit when you buy this remedy and you will not have cause for disappointment. It gives permanent relief in many cases where other so-called remedies have utterly failed.

Idea Is Afloat

But People Should Build Foundation Under Air Castles

"If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them," said Henry David Thoreau. Helen Keller says we cannot always realize our ideals, but we can always realize our realities, and our ideas must be practical. If we are to make a religion of them and live by them, Phillips Brooks expressed a high ideal in these words: "We reduce life to the pettiness of our daily living. We should exalt our living to the grandeur of life."

The people of the Middle Ages believed that certain words possessed magical powers.

Where Children Broadcast

Alberta Red Cross Gives Interesting Program Every Week

In a certain broadcasting studio in the capital city of Alberta, there has been an unique broadcast, in which the artists entertain young children. C.J.C.A. The Journal, Edmonton, has for many years kindly donated its station to the Alberta Red Cross for one hour weekly. This period has been popular with the country people, especially with groups of women's service clubs, such as the Women's Institute and the U.F.W.A.

Programs consist of health talks, Red Cross news, dramatic sketches, etc. By special permission the program was turned over for an afternoon to a Junior Red Cross Branch of Grade Six pupils from Norwood school.

These young people gave an interesting feature in the presentation of a regular monthly meeting, with the young president in the chair, and the usual procedure of business etc.

The entertainment period included a pageant of health, citizenship, and happiness, entitled the Red Cross Junior. This little play was composed for the occasion of the presentation to Canada of a beautiful banner from the British Juniors to Canadian Juniors during a visit to England of Jean Broome, the National Director of Junior Red Cross in Canada. The clear young voices of the Juniors rang over the ether with splendid power, and the unusual broadcast of these twenty young Albertans was listened to with much interest by the many friends of the air.

Where Fate Steps In

People Who Commit Serious Danger Caught By Simple Accidents

Not long ago William F. Scott, survivor of more than 200 parachute jumps and said to be the champion of the navy at this form of sport, received a fractured skull and other serious injuries near Washington. In a parachute jump? Not at all. In an ordinary automobile accident. Thus once more we see the scurry tricks that Fate reserves for men who tempt her too much. Oscar Palmquist, of Bridgeport, Conn., who found himself in the Atlantic Ocean after the Titanic went down, and who swam about for hours before he was picked up by a rescue ship, drowned a few days later in a pond six feet deep. Edward Whymper, first man to climb the Matterhorn, and conqueror of peaks all over the world, broke his collar bone when he slipped and fell while mounting the steps of a lecture platform. And Wallingford, we seem to recall, after availing the world of dollars, finally went to jail because he had forgotten to deposit funds to cover a $100 check.

That is the trouble with Fate; she doesn't come out into the open and fight fair with the weapons that have been chosen. She sneaks up and delivers a foul blow from behind. No doubt that is why she is so terrible.

A Valuable Table

Isaac Feather, of Emmaus, Pennsylvania, owns a library table built of 3,000 blocks of wood. The table is made of mahogany, walnut, red cedar, oak, poplar, and white pine wood which has been seasoned for more than 100 years. The designs include stars, diamonds, circles and semicircles. Feather, a bricklayer, worked the table in his spare time for a year.

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

Thou alone knowest what is good for me: Thou alone art Lord of all: do therefore what seemeth to thee best. Give to me or take from me: conform my will to Thine; and grant that with humble and perfect submission and in holy reverence I may be disposed to receive the orders of Thy eternal providence, and may equally have even dispensation which shall come to me from Thy Hand.—Pascal.

"It gave me a good appetite. I got strong and gained 7 pounds in 3 weeks. I could write all day about how good it was. I never felt so full when they started. But after taking it regularly for only 3 or 4 weeks they gained 5 or 10 pounds. Ugly hollows full out. Skinny limbs became gracefully rounded. Bleached skin grew clear and beautiful."

Sheep Industry Growing

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes any acid in the stomach. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn the fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is superior.

DETERMINATION PLUS!

A typical example of the doggedness of our people is found in the following incident accidentally brought to our attention. A farmer living a few miles north of Hanna cropped about two thousand bushels of wheat last year from a little better than two hundred acres. Living expenses, crop payment and seed for this year left no wherewithal to purchase feed for spring work. His horses wintered poorly and without feed could not be worked. Unable to arrange credit for feed, a second-hand tractor was purchased on deferred payments and credit arranged for gas. Misfortune never coming singly, he had the ill luck to be thrown off a saddle horse, breaking three ribs. No hospital for this man! He strapped a piece of canvas tightly around his body and today is driving that small tractor in a four-hundred acre programme of spring work. The moral is, "You can't keep a good man down."—Hanna Herald.

SNUFF STILL POPULAR

Even in excise statistics there is an occasional touch of human interest. For instance, it is revealed that snuff is still much in favor. In February, 1930, the quantity entered for consumption was $1,424 pounds, an increase of 13,000 pounds over February of last year. Authorities on the subject state delicately that this powdered form of tobacco is used by those who cannot "chew" because they have nothing with which to perform that operation. Be that as it may, the consumption of snuff is still going up.

FAMOUS DRIVER HAS RACED
3,500,000 MILES IN 25 YEARS

Motorism has a future in the person of E. G. "Cannonball" Baker, demon speed and endurance racer for the last 25 years.

Driving automobiles across the continent with record breaking speed has been his chief pursuit. He has participated in more than 800 racing events and has driven more than 3,500,000 miles in the last quarter century. Over all this mileage he has never had an accident—nor has he been caught by a traffic cop.

On one occasion, Baker made a trip which took him through the capital cities of the United States, completing the trip of 16,233 miles in 83 days. Last November he roared out of Los Angeles at midnight and arrived in Syracuse, N.Y., 69 hours and 31 minutes later—faster than the fastest trans-continental trains.

"Cannonball" is now building his own automobile with which he expects to cross the continent in fifty-nine hours.

The police should not take offense at our suggestion that a little consideration be given to habitual speeders and reckless drivers when it comes to recommending cancellation of drivers' licenses. There are a number in this district, every one of whom are known to the public, and should be equally as well known to the authorities, who should not be permitted to drive.

JUST AS GOOD!

ASK YOURSELF, IS IT?

When you ask for a certain line of goods, a line which you have seen advertised in newspapers—and you are told "Here is something just as good and cheaper," it is time to do some thinking. If there is more profit in selling goods not advertised, and you are buying at a saving, there must be something wrong somewhere—and usually that is loss of quality—something left out that is THERE in the advertised commodity you originally asked for.

It is well to remember that a manufacturer invests his good dollars in advertising space because he knows his product is right. The fact that he advertises in newspapers so that "he who runs may read" is evidence that he knows his claims are right, and that he is ready to stand behind his merchandise and the stores that sell it.

USED CARS SALES OVER- TOP NEW CARS

The remarkable number of used automobiles sold by dealers, in proportion to the new cars sold is revealed by figures recently compiled by the National Association of Finance Companies. Although the total number of retail sales recorded by manufacturers in 1929 was only 4,612,864, there were actually 10,214,064 cars and trucks sold during the year.

Used cars in 1929 thus amounted to approximately 120 per cent of new car sales. The proportion of used car sales to new car sales has been climbing steadily every year. In 1919 used cars handled by dealers numbered less than 60 per cent of new car sales. In other words in ten years the number of new cars sold has been multiplied by 2½ per cent, while used cars have increased more than fivefold. While sales of new cars last year were 22 per cent greater than before, sales of used cars increased 26 per cent.

In commenting upon the festival in general the adjudicators stated they were intensely surprised at the wonderful talent presented and Mr. Jamison said he believed there were more violinists in the Crows' Nest Pass than in any similar sized territory in the whole Dominion.

The festival throughout was well patronized and enjoyed, particularly so the special item introduced into Tuesday night's programme by little ten-year-old Dickie Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Vernon, of Banff, who with his miniature saxophone brought repeated cheers and demands for encores from the audience. Dickie had hoped to enter the festival competitions, but owing to being a non-resident of the festival district, could not enter.

Miss Dicken, of Fernie, won out over Mrs. I. M. Huestis, of Pincher Creek, by one point.

Local and General Items

While commending his shouldering the blame of breaking and entering the C.P.R. section house at Skookumchuk on April 7th, Judge Thompson, presiding at county court Saturday, sentenced Joe Blaskin, eighteen-year-old Coleman, Alberta, youth to serve six months in Nelson jail, when Blaskin pleaded guilty to the charge which involved his elder brother, Pete Blaskin, and a boy named Mattie Celli, who entered pleas of not guilty, were dismissed.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, Mrs. G. W. Penn and Misses Violet and Florence Penn, of Lundbreck, entertained in honor of Miss Elsie Bent, a bride-elect. Gifts in a miscellaneous shower soon filled a large, prettily-decorated wagon. During the afternoon, various contests were enjoyed, and at intervals the Misses Billie Smith, Jean Carwell, Florence Penn, Lydia Bent, Violet Penn, and Mrs. E. G. Grove entertained with violin or piano selections. The chief event was the presentation of the gifts to the bride-elect by Master Brian Smith and Miss Edna Swanson, two charming three-year-old children, dressed in the conventional bride and bridesmaid attire, who made the presentation in a most delightful manner. Miss Elsie Bent pleasantly thanked everyone for their gifts. The serving of refreshments and singing terminated a pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. T. D. Stanley mother of Mr. V. O. Stanley, well known gentle fisherman of High River, died at Toronto recently at the ripe age of eighty-three years.

Miss Bessie Crowder, who has just completed a course at the Calgary normal school has taken up practice teaching at Pierce, just east of Macleod.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hill, of Victoria, are visiting in Calgary for a few days, after spending the winter in Egypt. Mr. Hill is well known in this district, having founded the mining camp of Hillcrest shortly after the C.P.R. line was built through this district. It is said that he is credited with offering great Canadian and American capitalists passes over his western railroad to Hillcrest years before the C.R.R. ever thought of such a clever notion in respect to their Crows' Nest Pass line.

Cause For National Gratification

Profound satisfaction will be felt by the people of Western Canada, in common with the rest of the world, in the successful outcome of the Five Power naval conference in London, England. That satisfaction is all the greater, and the feeling of relief more pronounced, because of the many predictions freely made during the progress of the conference that its results would be nil, and quite abortive in the realization of the hopes in which it was conceived.

Because there were many conflicting viewpoints to be reconciled, many difficulties to be overcome, and the conference ran on month after month, the pessimists told an anxiously awaiting world that nothing would be accomplished because nothing could be; that the nations were still so suspicious of each other that they were afraid to disarm in even the slightest degree; that the old game was still being played with each nation trying to get some advantage at the expense of others.

But with the signing of an agreement by the three greatest naval powers, and acceptance of a portion of the agreement by the next two naval powers, the dire prophecies of the pessimists have been proven foundationless. Instead, the splendid optimism, the unflinching patience and courage of Ramsay MacDonald have triumphed, and a great forward step taken along the road to permanent world peace.

After a world war lasting more than four years, why should people have become discouraged and foreseen failure because a period of three months was required in discussion of the many knotty problems confronting the naval conference before a solution was found?

The British Commonwealth of Nations, the United States of America, and the Empire of Japan have found themselves whereby they undertake to reduce their naval armament and expenditures and voluntarily impose restrictions on themselves. The number, size and armament of ships of war is limited. And who, a few short years ago would have imagined it possible, all five powers agree that information will be given to each by the others of "vessels it is building" in replacement of obsolete, abandoned and destroyed ships. This is not preparation for war, but for the maintenance of peace.

But the great achievement of the conference is not to be found so much in the actual reductions decided upon, or the limitations of actions voluntarily assumed, as it is in the established fact that the policy of friendly consultation between nations has been given an impetus which will undoubtedly grow. This more than anything else must fill the world with hope for the future.

The conference has also established beyond all possibility of dispute that, no matter how far the leaders of a nation may be prepared to go in the matter of disarmament, they can only proceed as far as public opinion at home will support them in going. The belief is general that the conference would have gone to even greater lengths in disarmament had the various representatives there felt assured of support at home, and that their very willingness to make concessions would not be used to overthrow the whole project when referred for final ratification by their national assemblies.

The great lesson of the conference for all peace-loving people is, therefore, the vital necessity of an awakened and informed public opinion in every land on the awful subject of war and preparation for war, rather than preparation for peace. Once again has been demonstrated by this naval conference that no government can move very far in advance of public opinion, no matter how laudable may be the motives by which it is inspired or praiseworthy the object sought to be attained.

It is the rank and file, the great mass of the people who must become peace-minded. It is the masses who must be informed and taught to shed their suspicions and animosities. The more ardent advocates of peace the peoples of all nations become, the more quickly will their recognized leaders and responsible statesmen write those wishes into solemn agreements and binding treaties.

Canadians, perhaps more than any other people in the world, have cause for thankfulness and rejoicing in the reaching of a naval understanding between the British Commonwealth, the United States and Japan. We are part and parcel of the British Commonwealth, while our nearest neighbors are the United States and Japan. With the former we have much in common, while with the latter by reason of our geographical position we must have ever increasing intercourse. Furthermore, any misunderstanding between the United States and Japan could hardly fail to react with injury to us. That all are in accord is cause for deep gratification in Canada.

Should Finish Studies

In Canadian University

British Students Who Settle Here Would Find It Helpful

British students who settle to live in Canada should complete their studies in Canadian universities. This is the conclusion arrived at by Dr. Cyril Norwood, headmaster of Harrow, and chief of the party of headmasters of British public schools who are now touring Canada.

Dr. Norwood has based his conclusions on a study of the Canadian universities the party visited in Quebec and the Maritimes. He hoped the future would see more Canadian students at Oxford, Cambridge and London, but felt the most important requisite for success in Canada was training in a Canadian university. There was a movement on foot, he said, to make the University of London the research centre of the empire.

Certain Type Of Ant Is Used In Surgical Way

There are surgical ant martyrs in Peru. Advice from an expedition of the Field Museum tell that when a native of the equatorial forest is wounded, he gets a certain type of ant with powerful jaws. The ant is made to bite severed edges of skin and bring them together. The surgeon loses his life in healing.

After he bites his body is snipped off and his head with its death grip on the skin remains till the wound is healed.

Africa Has Aerial Studio

Plane Was Especially Built For Mapping Country

Built especially for the photographing of an area of 63,000 square miles in Northern Rhodesia, an airplane is soon to be put into commission. The machine is literally an aerial photographic studio. It can be flown at a height of 20,000 feet and remain at this altitude for seven and one-half hours, while the pilot and photographer map the country below. As most of the flights will be over a wild country the plane has two engines so that if one fails the other will carry the machine to safety.

Discovery Of Danish Farmers

Sale Of Milk By The Foot Is A Possibility

Milk will shortly be on sale by the foot, following important experiments at a Danish farm.

It has been found that when the natural water is withdrawn from cow's milk the remaining pulp substance can be rolled into sheets similar in appearance to paper.

Special machines have been made to carry out this rolling process on sanitary lines, and the milk becomes so highly concentrated that it is a food in itself.

When required in liquid form it is simply dissolved in boiling water and its strength gauged by the amount of water added.

OWES HER HEALTH TO PINK PILLS

This Weak Anaemic Woman Now Rejoices In Health and Strength

It is a scientific fact that nearly all the ills that afflict women are due to poor, thin blood. This is the cause of low spirits and languidness, the poor appetite, breathlessness and tingling back that make life a burden for so many women. But suffering women could banish these ills by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for it is a known fact that these pills create an abundance of new rich blood. Their wonderful reputation is based on that. Proof of these statements is given by Mrs. L. Deschamps, La Tuque, Que., who says: "Before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a bad run down condition. I appeared to be almost bloodless, had frequent headaches, and the least exertion would leave me breathless and worn out. My husband advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and for me six boxes. Almost from the first I noticed an improvement in my condition, and as I continued taking the pills my blood became better and I steadily grew stronger. I today I am enjoying the best of health. I am now able to do all my housework without feeling the least fatigue; my appetite is better and I sleep more soundly at night. All this I owe to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and unhesitatingly recommend them to all who are run-down in health."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at all drug stores or they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canada Has Exclusive Method

Quality Of Canned Goods Must Be Marked On Label

Canada is the only country in the world so far to require the quality of canned goods to be clearly marked on the label that the housewife can buy with the assurance that she is getting what she wants. Under the provisions of the Meat and Canned Foods Act, administered by the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, there are four quality grades: "Fancy," "Choice," "Standard," and "Second." "Always buy by the quality mark" is a slogan can now be applied to home buying with a real value.

Canada's Forest Area

The total forest area of Canada is estimated to be 1,151,454 square miles. Of this area, 865,880 square miles are productive and accessible; a little over one third of this area bears timber of merchantable size; the remainder carries young growth not yet fit for use.

Boosting For Canada

Many Cities In Britain Have Held "Canada Week"

There has not been much said in Canadian newspapers about the city of Bristol's "Canada Week," and the fact that it has been taken more notice of than it was.

Bristol is a city of 400,000 people. It has just had a "Canada Week," which consisted of a campaign for the buying of goods made in Canada. Pages of newspaper advertisements, space, posters, window displays of Canadian merchandise, and other forms of publicity were given to our products, and the cumulative results have meant the selling of many thousands of dollars worth of goods, besides the value of introducing lines of Canadian goods to Bristol purchasers for the first time.

Glasgow, with a population of over a million, and several other big cities, have held "Canada Weeks," and Canada must have derived a large amount of permanent benefit from them.

Such gestures of good-will deserve the practical approval of Canadians. There is a great deal more boosting of Dominion products in Great Britain than there is of English products over here. The Empire Marketing Board spends $5,000,000 on the promotion of the sale of Empire goods in the British Isles. We sell a vast quantity of merchandise over there, and then spend most of our money in buying United States goods.

Canada will wait till the moon turns into cheese before a "Canada Week" is staged in one of the big cities over the border.

Has No Known Parallel

Two British Families Have Produced Outstanding Men For Generations

The death of the Earl of Balfour recalls the fact that for centuries two British families have produced big men for generation after generation — the Cecil and the Churchill. There is no known parallel for this in any other land or in any other age.

The Pitts, father and son, were premiers of Great Britain but it ended there, and of practically all other men of note in the old land the descendants have not attained any other honor save that of carrying a big name.

It is true that the mother transmits mentally, then the Cecil and Churchill men must have an uncanny habit of selecting unusual wives.

Millions Dedicated To Humanity's Service

Huge Sum Set Aside By Mayo Bros. For Medical Education and Research

The millions of dollars that Doctors William and Charles Mayo have made through their world-famous clinic at Rochester, Minn., will not go to their families when the two great surgeons die.

Instead this money — the "holy money," as the brothers call it, now totalling in the neighborhood of $13,000,000 — will be dedicated to humanity's service through the Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research, affiliated with the University of Minnesota.

Meanwhile the two brothers have put themselves on "salaries" which do not amount annually to nearly half of their incomes. All of their incomes above these salaries goes to the foundation, to train surgeons for the future.

Dr. William Mayo was asked on what basis he and his brother have fixed their charges.

"That, too, was something my brother and I discussed long," he said. "When money began to come in and pile up so fast it frightened us, we had to meet that problem. The thought of reducing fees generally had to be dismissed. We could not pauperize our own profession. There are thousands of physicians and surgeons who need the income from what are becoming accepted as standard fees."

"But we could do something that we did. We scaled the fee in accordance with the patient's means. And we gave the same treatment to the man without a cent that we give to the millionaire. A man's financial standing has nothing to do with the treatment he gets from us. But it has everything to do with what we charge him."

The Friend Of All Sufferers — Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is a valuable remedy to all those who suffer pain. It holds out hope to everyone and realizes it by stilling suffering everywhere. The NEW IVORY

RESOURCES WILL BE CONSIDERED BEFORE BUDGET

Ottawa, Ont.—Legislation dealing with the return of the natural resources to the western provinces will be dealt with by parliament before the budget is brought down.

This was stated by Premier MacKenzie King at the conclusion of a cabinet meeting. The prime minister said that it had been hoped to dispose of this legislation, which has for its object return of the natural resources to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, as well as the lands in the Peace River block and railway belt to British Columbia, before the Easter recess.

The House of Commons had not been able to put through the legislation, so it would be gone on when parliament resumed its session after the introduction of the budget.

The date when the budget will come down depends, to a certain extent, on the progress which is made with this legislation. The prime minister made no announcement as to when the statement of the finance minister may be expected.

While Mr. King gave no intimation to this effect, it is assumed that the importance of the natural resources legislation has prompted the government to try and get it through before the budget comes down.

Once the budget is introduced in the House, debate on it will be practically continuous, probably for some weeks.

There is also the possibility of the budget debate becoming so strenuous that dissolution of parliament might be precipitated. In that event the natural resources legislation would fall by the wayside, and the work which has been done might be of little avail.

Two Vancouver Teachers Drowned

One Sacrificed Life in Attempt To Rescue Friend.

North Vancouver, B.C.,—J. A. Hyndman, Vancouver, and F. E. Lethian, Vancouver, teachers in Carleton school, Vancouver, perished in Lynne Creek before the eyes of 150 pupils they had taken for a mountain hike.

Mr. Lethian sacrificed his life in a gallant attempt to save his friend. The party had reached Second Canyon and Mr. Lethian saw that he crossed the large log that serves as a bridge, when Mr. Hyndman lost his balance halfway across and fell into the boiling current.

Without hesitation, Mr. Lethian plunged into the swollen creek, but failed to reach his friend, before both were swept over the falls and perished.

Parachute Saves Aviator

Plane Crashed From Great Height At Sacramento, Cal.

Sacramento, Cal.—Lieut. I. A. Woodring, 96th Pursuit Squadron, Rockwell Field, San Diego, leaped to safety with his parachute when his plane crashed on Mather Field from a height of 2,000 feet during a "dog fight."

Captain H. M. Elmdorff and Lieut. Woodring had withdrawn from the pursuit formation flying in review to stage an aerial combat. Suddenly something was seen to fly off Woodring's plane, and at the same instant the flyer leaped from the cockpit. He floated to the field uninjured. The plane crashed within 200 feet of the spot where the pilot landed.

Lieut. Woodring was pilot of the plane which, in the summer of 1927, was in fatal collision with that of Lieut. Tadd Johnson, as the latter missed his landing at Uplands Field, Ottawa, at the end of a flight as part of the escort to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh who flew to the Canadian capital to take part in the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation.

Johnson jumped as Woodring's propeller smashed the tail assembly of his machine, but he was too close to the ground and his parachute failed to open.

Australia Wants Native Viceroy

Chief Justice Of High Court Has Been Recommended For Office

London, Eng.—The old and much disputed question of whether the British dominions should have governors-general of their own nationality is likely to be settled one way or the other by Australia's demand that the successor to Lord Stonehaven should be an Australian.

Sir Isaac A. Isaacs, chief justice of the Australian high court, has been recommended as the Commonwealth's next governor-general, and although the dominions office here is silent, it is understood that a precedent in this connection will probably be established.

Sydney, Australia.—Addressing the first annual meeting of the new Australian party, Rt. Hon. William Morris Hughes, Maritime Prime Minister of Australia, said that he did not matter to the party who governed Australia so long as it was governed well. Therefore the Australian party would support good government wherever they found it, and had some criticism, however, for the recent government of Rt. Hon. Stanley Bruce, declaring its only remedy for financial depression was reduction of wages.

Received By King George

Canadian Minister To France Has Interview At Windsor Castle

London, Eng.—Canada's minister to France, Hon. Philippe Roy, was received by the King at Windsor Castle, where he spent 20 minutes chatting with His Majesty, mostly about Canada.

"I was surprised at the health and vigor of the King," Mr. Roy said after the interview. "I was formerly a doctor and thus able to judge. I think the King is in better health than he has been for many years."

Mr. Roy told His Majesty that the first time he saw him was when he (Roy) was a student at Laval University in Montreal in 1891 and the King an officer on a British ship then visiting Canada.

The Canadian minister has seen King George on several occasions since, but this was the first opportunity of speaking to him since his appointment as Canadian minister in Paris.

Ship Enters Wrong Port

Orders Mixed and Seattle Cargo Goes To Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C.—One often hears of persons getting into wrong hotel rooms, but seldom hears of a vessel getting into a wrong port. The oil tanker "Los Alamos," bound from San Pedro to Seattle, arrived here and asked the local agent for orders. The master of the vessel soon found out, however, that somebody had blundered and his cargo was bound for Seattle, not Vancouver. He and his vessel got out of port on the same tide.

The agents are trying to find out who blundered. A "bad half-hour" is promised for someone.

Starts New Air Service

New York, N.Y.—Still blaming new air trails, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has inaugurated the new trans-Atlantic service by making a seven-day flight from Havana to Cristobal, Canal Zone.

C.N.R. To Be Reconstructed

Endorsement Of Amalgamation Of All Companies Is Expected

Ottawa, Ont.—The reconstruction of the financial structure of the Canadian National Railways will be introduced from this session of parliament with the passage of a bill to amalgamate into one corporate body all the various companies which now make up the C.N.R. Intimation to this effect came from the Department of Railways and Canals. It is not expected, however, that the further steps of consolidating the various bond issues and otherwise reorganizing the whole financial structure will be proceeded with this year.

The bill to consolidate the companies, it is believed, will not be contentious and will go through with little discussion; but to deal with the financial structure would take a great deal of time, even if the preparations were far enough advanced, which includes consent of the various bond-holders. There is to be a general election this year, legislation taking up so much time would likely end the going difficult.

French Flier Honored

Notable Figures In Aviation Attend Funeral In New York

New York, N.Y.—Representatives of the French Government, and notable figures in the field of aviation, including Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, paid their last respects to Count Henri de la Vaulx, president of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, who was killed in an accident at Jersey City, N.J.

While aeroplanes circled in formation overhead, the Rev. Theophile Wucher conducted a requiem mass in the French church of St. Vincent de Paul. Then the body was removed to the French line pier to sail on the "De Grasse" for the dead aviator's native land.

BIG INDUSTRIES MAY LOCATE IN COAST PROVINCE

Vancouver, B.C.—Three major industries are making extensive investigations with the object of locating in British Columbia, and one of them—one which would mean the building of a very large industrial plant—is almost certain to decide in favor of this province, according to Premier S. F. Tolmie, who passed through Vancouver en route to Victoria after a visit to Eastern Canada.

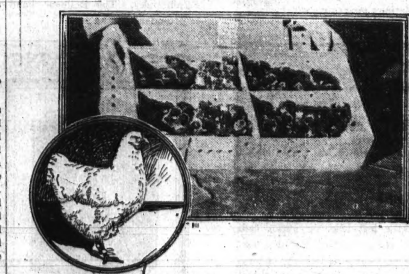

The premier's visit to Ottawa convinced him that the International Sockeye Salmon Treaty will be passed at the present sitting of the Dominion Parliament providing amendments which may be made by the United States are satisfactory.

The premier said that the Dominion Government will investigate the Yukon section of the proposed Alaska Highway. Premier Tolmie said that British Columbia owes a debt to the members of the Australian lumber delegation, whom he met in Ottawa. There is much evidence he said, of the thoroughness with which they did their work.

While in Ottawa the premier took up the matter of the five-year census for British Columbia. The prairie provinces enjoy this at present and he feels that British Columbia would benefit from the same provision. He promised to pursue the matter further.

France Denies Report Paris.—Information appearing in newspapers of foreign countries to the effect that France would build a new cruiser of 27,000 tons, armed with eight guns of 12-inch calibre, has been officially denied.

One Day Old, but Lively

Every spring millions of baby chicks go out from the British Columbia coast and Vancouver Island to the interior of the province and the Prairie Provinces. Hatched earlier on the milder Pacific slopes than elsewhere in the country, they are by Express across the country to poultry breeders inland. Taken when they are but one day old, they are placed in cardboard boxes with breathing holes punched in them, and loaded into express cars kept at just the right temperature for their benefit. They can go 72 hours without food or water. Above package has just been landed at Vancouver, and is being examined prior to train shipment. According to officials of the Canadian Pacific Express Company which annually handles millions of these fluffy balls, the traffic is growing steadily from year to year.

FRENCH MOTOR EXPERT

Miss Amaluelia Norden is probably the most efficient woman in all of France when it comes to keeping her A B C's about motors. Whether they are automobile, aeroplane, marine or any other variety of engine, Miss Norden knows as much if not more, about them than many so-called male experts.

Athlete From West Again In Limelight

Ethel Catherwood Training For Sports' Event In Toronto

Toronto, Ont.—After a long lay-off Ethel Catherwood, from Saskatoon, who set the athletic world talking when she came out of the west three years ago, is resuming her high jumping activities shortly. The holder of the girls' world record of five feet three inches, made at the 1928 Olympic games, has jumped at a meet only once since her return from Amsterdam, and then only gave an exhibition at the Coliseum in the following February. Last summer she applied herself well training and the injury was long in healing, keeping her out of all the meets. She will give a special exhibition at the Shriner's sports in June. Walter Knox and "Ab" Chilcott will look after her training at Hampden Park.

Coming To Canada

British National Union Sending Party Of Farmers On Tour

London, Eng.—The British National Union, it is announced, is arranging to send a party of farmers to tour Canada during August and September. There had been a growing feeling of talk lately of British agriculture being "behind the times," and it is hoped the interchange of ideas which will result from the visit may be of value to the party while it is possible they may also be able to give some counsel on certain problems of the soil with which those of the homeland have had more experience than the farmers of the new world.

Expect Early Release

Toronto.—Chinese officials are in communication with the captors of Rev. C. A. Bridgman, Canadian United Church missionary in West China, and hope to negotiate an early release, said a cablegram to foreign mission offices in Canada from the mission station at Chungking, West China.

France Denies Report

Paris.—Information appearing in newspapers of foreign countries to the effect that France would build a new cruiser of 27,000 tons, armed with eight guns of 12-inch calibre, has been officially denied.

King May Appoint New Poet Laureate

Successor To Dr. Robert Bridges Not Yet Named

London, Eng.—The literary and the ordinary public too are wondering who will be the next poet laureate, or if indeed there will be any successor to Dr. Robert Bridges. The question of whether his honorary position would lapse was raised after the death of Lord Tennyson, and Tennyson's successor, Austin, was not appointed until Tennyson had been dead four years.

Lord Tennyson, who died in 1892, was the last poet who actually performed in any measurable degree the direct duty of the poet laureate, namely, the writing of a poem or ode when the monarch was buried with anything of extra moment. The day for writing poetry at the king's command has, of course, long since gone.

But it is likely that His Majesty, after a reasonable interval, will be asked by the prime minister, confer the title of poet laureate upon some scholarly man of verse and thereby continue this special royal recognition of poetry, which began as early as the days of Chaucer, who received an allowance of wine from the King's wine butts.

Noted Soldier Dead

Sir Gordon Guggisberg Served Empire In Many Ways

London, Eng.—Few men have had a more versatile career or a greater variety of Empire service than Sir Gordon Guggisberg, noted soldier and colonial administrator, whose death here came as a shock to official circles. Sir Gordon had been governor of British Guiana since 1928. He was 60 years of age and Canadian-born, his birthplace being Toronto.

Sir Gordon Guggisberg had a distinguished career in the war and before and after the war served his king in the east, in Africa and in South America. Sir Gordon was a graduate of the Royal Military College at Woolwich, and while military promotion was for a long time a slow matter for Gordon Guggisberg, in this he suffered what was but the inevitable lot of most peace time soldiers.

Canadian Prisons Fireproof

Ohio Disaster Could Not Happen Here Says Superintendent

Ottawa, Ont.—"Positively impossible," was the comment of General W. St. Pierre Hughes, superintendent of penitentiaries here, when asked if a fire such as destroyed the Ohio state institution with the loss of more than 300 lives could happen in any Canadian penitentiary. "Our institutions," said General Hughes, "are entirely fireproof."

All the cell blocks in the Canadian penitentiaries were fire-proof, he said.

TREATY SIGNED BY DELEGATES OF FIVE POWERS

London, Eng.—The "London naval treaty of 1930" was signed by the delegates of the five powers in St. James Palace, and the conference opened by King George V., three months ago adjourned.

A few hours later the U.S. delegates entrusted for Southampton and boarded the "Leviathan," which waited a day for them and in which they sailed for home. The French, and Italian delegates departed for Paris and Rome respectively, after the signing ceremonies were over.

The full text of the treaty was officially made public at the moment when Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson sat in an old state chair covered in red velvet and appended the first signature to the Morocco-bound document opposite a red seal with a blue ribbon attached. It contains nothing not exhaustively discussed previously in these and other despatches.

The 92-day-old conference began its sixth and final plenary session in a dignified, almost somber mood which was maintained during half an hour of oratory. But at the end the veteran French statesman, Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, exercising all his famous charm, wit and good nature, brought the delegates, their advisers and the hundred correspondents who filled Queen Anne's drawing room to their feet laughing and applauding as he solemnly transferred from "the collective ownership of the conference" to the private ownership of the private ownership of the conference, a gold pen presented for the treaty's signature.

DISORDER IS SPREADING IN INDIAN EMPIRE

Bombay, India.—British authority is confronted with an increasingly grave situation in India. Serious disorders and fighting with troops were reported in widely-separated sections of the Empire as the anti-government movement spread. An Indian rebel, armed with two revolvers, was killed at Chittagong, after grave disorders at Peshawar—thousands of miles to the west.

At Peshawar, important outpost city near the entrance to Khyber Pass, one or more British soldiers and 20 native rioters were killed reports said, when a mob protested arrest of several anti-government agitators.

A Lahore despatch, explaining the events, said that the outbreak was supposed to have been provoked by a mob, which had held up an armed car, poured kerosene on it, and burned it. Both occupants were burned to death.

At another point in the bazaar, a British sergeant on a motorcycle approached the rioters, who pulled him off his machine and hacked him on the face with an axe. He was said to have died of his wounds. The deputy commissioner of police and other police officers were badly wounded and sent to hospitals.

British and Gurkha troops took absolute charge of the city, and were said to be maintaining order at the gates to prevent incursions by the hill tribesmen, who are of far different fighting stock from the Hindus and swarm down when there are disturbances with the hope of loot. Some of the disorders have been over which British authority never has been fully extended.

Alberta's Election Date Set

June 19 Is Day Selected According To Official Announcement

Edmonton, Alta.—The Alberta provincial election will be held on Thursday, June 19, Official announcement of the date was made by Hon. George Hoadley, acting premier, speaking for Premier Brownlee, who is at present at Vancouver.

The U.F.A. government still has one year to run for five years term to serve, but the calling of an election has not been entirely unexpected as there have been rumors for some time that this would be done.

The following statement was issued by Premier Brownlee, in announcing the election:

"In keeping with its promise during the recent session that if an election was called to be held this summer, the government announced its decision to hold an election this summer, with polling day fixed for the nineteenth of June."

Conference Of Premiers Indefinitely Postponed

Original Date Was Not Convenient For All Officials

Winnipeg, Man.—Parley of prairie premiers, set for Winnipeg, to discuss immigration, has been indefinitely postponed. Premier Bracken of Manitoba, who was expected to be outlined for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, will probably be held some time next month.

The original date—April 29—was found not to be convenient for the officials concerned. If, and when the prairie premiers do gather at Winnipeg, their season will be preliminary to the Dominion conference, at which the provinces will be represented. Such a conference is planned for mid-summer at Ottawa.

Quarantine Districts Selected

Ottawa, Ont.—Several rural municipalities in Saskatchewan have been constituted restricted areas or quarantine districts for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis under the animal contagious diseases act. The proclamation creating the restricted areas has been officially issued. Municipalities involved are Moose, Cory, Loganport, Park, Warman, Wood Creek and Big Arm.

Water Tests For Churchill

Ottawa, Ont.—Tests of the water which is to furnish the supply of Churchill are being made by the Department of Railways and Canals here, and so far the results have been satisfactory. The chief fear was that the water might contain an accumulation of various salts. While the water is what is termed "hard," it is suitable for human use.
